Leading Consumer and Business Services Center Coming Soon to Lebanon's Mill Race Station

LEBANON, OR –Postal Connections®, one of the nation's premier providers of retail packaging, shipping, mail receiving and eBay customer-sales support, will soon open in Lebanon, Oregon. The new, family-operated service center will become the eighth Postal Connections in Oregon. Current plans call for an early July opening, when the first retail businesses begin to open at Mill Race Station, the highly-anticipated mixed-use shopping center and residential community. The family team of Brenda Jungwirth and Tina Large, mother-in-law and daughter-in-law respectively, will be leading the charge as owner and General Manager of the franchise location. "With more people than ever before working and shopping from home, it is the perfect time to launch our business in Lebanon as a one-stop shop for packing, shipping and e-commerce needs," said Brenda Jungwirth.

The new service center will serve the fast-growing Linn County area, including an expanding residential community, Lebanon commuters and area professionals working remotely, with time-saving business services. Located near Samaritan Lebanon Community Hospital, Western University of Health Sciences and Entek Manufacturing, among other businesses, Postal Connections will add a convenient e-commerce returns and package hold-for-pick-up location.

Mill Race Station's Postal Connections service center will offer 24/7 personal mailbox receiving, shipping, packaging and printing, as well as notary services, passport photos and a retail space of uncommon gifts. The location will feature the Postal Connections sister brand iSOLD It®, an online sales support service for people who want to turn items into cash by selling them online but are uncomfortable, inexperienced or just don't have the time to do it themselves. iSOLD It also provides free item evaluations, expert advice on pricing and online listing strategies with no fees due until an item sells. The listing is good for 30-days. If the item doesn't sell there is no charge and the customer can either pick up their item or have it donated to charity.

Jungwirth and Large are excited to bring their valuable work experience to the service center. Brenda has held roles in both public service in addition to private entrepreneurial pursuits. Large's career path has specialized in customer service positions. Together, they will oversee day-to-day operations and look forward to serving the community with reliable convenient access to an extensive menu of services with ample parking and personalized customer care.

Postal Connections/iSOLDIt will offer a virtual mailbox service with email notification to customers when mail arrives. Customers, located anywhere, can then decide if mail should be held, opened and scanned to send them or discarded.
